The Independence County Library will begin hosting Children's Story Time year-round beginning in October. Every Wednesday morning at 10:00, beginning October 5, children can enjoy stories, videos, and craft time. The program, according to coordinator Katie Treubig, is aimed at entertaining preschoolers, but school-aged children who are home schooled are also welcome. "We will have crafts of varying levels of difficulty, so hopefully all children who attend will find something that interests them." The Independence County Library is located in Batesville at 368 East Main Street.
